

The Well Women Centre

This production of 'River of Stars' will be benefiting
The Well Women Centre, Wigan & Leigh.

The Well Women Centre is run by women for women it's aim is to Empower women throughout the Wigan borough to improve their emotional health and well being.

The Centre works in a cooperative way offering support, guidance and education enabling women to take control and make positive life choices

Thanks to:

ALRA North

The Old Courts

Helen Parry

The Well Women Centre

Thurs 23rd Nov, 5pm and 6:30pm
Fri 24th Nov, 11am (Limited Tickets available)

The Cells, The Old Courts
Gerrard Winstanley House, Crawford St, Wigan WN1 1NA

FEATURING • Diana Carson –Walker

Directed by Helen Parry

Produced by Daisy Roberts

WWW.THEOLDCOURTS.COM

TICKET HOTLINE 01942 834747

NOT FOR PROFIT, ALL FOR THE ARTS

About the Show

What happens when you follow your dreams and it take a path that others don't understand? River of Stars explores one woman's journey as she follows her dreams, packing her three daughters along for the ride. Exploring her daughters' insights using physicality and everyday objects, Susan gives us a glimpse of growing up in the Land of Dreams. She shows is that even in America—breaking peoples expectations of you takes courage, work and a bit of luck.

Leavenworth, Washington

Leavenworth is a Bavarian-styled village in the Cascade Mountains, in central Washington State. Alpine-style buildings with restaurants serving German beer and food line Front Street.

The Company

Diana came to Wigan from Washington in September 2016 to complete an MA in Professional Acting at ALRA North.

'River of Stars' is Diana's practical research project and final piece at ALRA before she graduates. After ALRA Diana plans to return to the US to get married before continuing to work as an actor in the UK.

Credits: (in training ALRA North) A Taste of Honey, Three Sister, Romeo and Juliet, Accidental Death of an Anarchist, One Million Tiny Plays about Britain and Love & Money.

Director: Helen Parry

Helen has worked with ALRA North as a freelance director over the last few years. She directed Diana in an adaptation of the novel The Bell Jar by Sylvia Plath during her early training. She has acted as an advisor and mentor to Diana ever since.

Producer and SM: Daisy Roberts

River of Stars is Daisy's first experience of producing a show. She hopes to pursue a more technical career in theatre after graduating with an MA in Professional Acting from ALRA North.